Residential vs. Commercial split

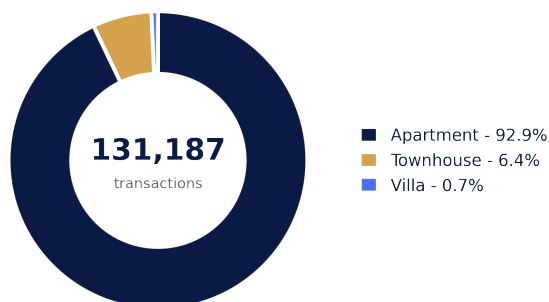

What this means
Off-plan demand in Dubai is overwhelmingly residential: for every 100 off-plan sales in 2025, 97 were homes and just 3 were commercial units. Commercial off-plan remains a small, specialist segment concentrated in a handful of mixed-use districts.

Residential Off-Plan Hotspots

Top 10 areas by transaction volume

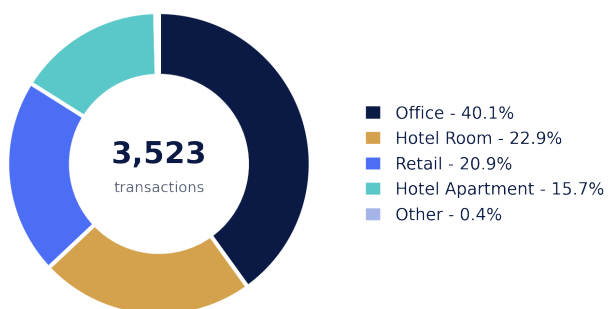

What this means

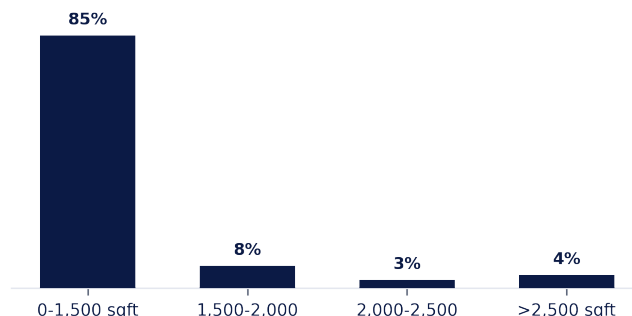

Jumeirah Village Circle remains the clear leader in off-plan launches and resales, running well ahead of the next-closest area. Emerging masterplans such as Ghaf Woods and Dubai Production City are now firmly inside the top five, signalling where new off-plan supply is landing in 2025.

Commercial Off-Plan

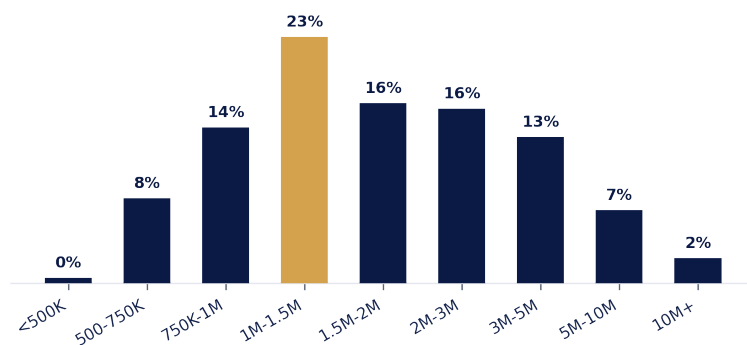

Asset type mix

Built-up area mix

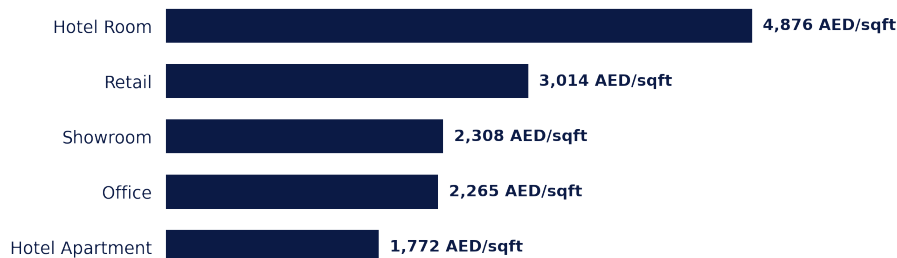

Sales price mix (AED)

What this means

Offices lead commercial off-plan at 40% of volume, followed closely by hotel rooms and retail - both signs of continued investor appetite for branded hospitality and mixed-use assets.

Average price per sq ft by type

Note: Land is not shown - Property Monitor recorded zero off-plan (Oqood) land transactions in 2025; all 2,784 Dubai land sales that year registered via Title Deed (ready).

Key Takeaways & Methodology

Key takeaways

- Off-plan accounted for 63.1% of all Dubai real estate transactions in 2025 - the dominant route to market.
- Residential apartments, and 1-bedroom units specifically, drive the bulk of off-plan demand.
- Jumeirah Village Circle, Motor City and Dubai Production City are the leading off-plan hotspots by volume.
- The AED 1M-1.5M price band is the sweet spot for off-plan residential buyers.
- Commercial off-plan is a small but active niche led by offices and hospitality assets.

Methodology & sources

Figures are compiled from six Property Monitor market analysis reports covering Dubai residential and commercial sales for the period 1 January - 31 December 2025, split by Oqood (off-plan) and Title Deed (ready) registration type. Off-plan totals in this report combine residential Oqood (131,187 transactions, AED 286.4bn) and commercial Oqood (3,523 transactions, AED 9.5bn) data. Percentages are rounded to one decimal place. Area rankings reflect relative transaction volume as reported by Property Monitor; the top 10 areas are shown for clarity.
